

Top tips for addressing specific risks for looked after children

- Explain the risks of ‘friending’ people they don’t know online
- Set their privacy settings on social media sites like Facebook to ‘private’
- Ask your child not to share identifying information online
- If you’re worried about your child being bullied – or being a bully – talk to their social worker and get advice from: www.antibullyingpro.com
- If you’re introducing new rules about online behaviour, make them for the whole family
